

KILLS PHYSICIAN WHO REFUSED AID

Unpaid Bill for Services Cause of Shooting by Angry Father at Duquoin, Illinois.

VICTIM IS FORMER MAYOR

Bullets Fired Through Door After Dr. Dunn Shoves Assailant From His Office.

Duquoin, Ill., June 8.—Refused medical treatment for a child who was ill, because of an unpaid bill. Jesse Joplin Saturday night invaded the office of Dr. D. Winton Dunn, former mayor of Duquoin, and fired six shots into the body of the physician, causing his death.

After his first attack, Joplin left the office, replenished his supply of ammunition, and returned. Other physicians who had been called by the wounded man prevented a renewal of the firing until the arrival of Chief of Police Plumley, who arrested Joplin and disarmed him.

Joplin was taken to the county jail at Pinckneyville, while Dr. Dunn was rushed on a special train to St. Louis, where he died in the Missouri Baptist sanitarium yesterday.

Joplin had been a patient of Dr. Dunn several years ago and the latter had been unable to collect for his services. He placed his accounts in the hands of collectors, arousing the anger of Joplin. Recently Joplin's child became ill and Dr. Dunn refused to answer the call.

The physician was seated in his office in the Odd Fellows building Saturday night when Joplin appeared at the door with a revolver in his hand. "I am going to kill you," he said to Dr. Dunn. "I have come for that purpose, and I am going to send you where you belong."

Dr. Dunn sought to argue. He was more than sixty years old and he knew he was no match physically for Joplin.

The doctor arose from his seat and, talking, crossed the room until he reached Joplin's side. Suddenly Dr. Dunn shoved Joplin through the door and slammed it shut.

Shots Fired Through Door.

Joplin opened a fusillade through the door, firing until his revolver was empty. Each bullet took effect. The first broke Dr. Dunn's right arm. The other missiles struck him in the body. Two penetrated the abdomen, two took effect in the chest, and one struck him in the left shoulder.

Joplin left the building without opening the door or calling to his victim.

Dr. Dunn realized he was desperately wounded. He dragged himself to the telephone and, holding himself by a chair, managed to ask to be connected with the office of Dr. M. Addies, who has an office directly across the street.

"I have just been shot," he said to Dr. Addies. "I feel that I am mortally wounded and I want you to come to my office just as quickly as you possibly can."

HELD INNOCENT IN WINTERS MYSTERY

W. R. Cooper.

W. R. Cooper, a boarder in the home of Dr. W. A. Winters of Newcastle, Ind., when the latter's daughter Catherine disappeared more than a year ago, has been absolved from a charge of having contributed to her disappearance. When he was arrested some days ago, together with Dr. and Mrs. Winters, he was unable to furnish bond for $5,000 and so was put in jail. He denies that he knows anything about the girl's present whereabouts or that he had anything to do with her sudden disappearance.

office he found Dr. Dunn reclining on a couch, to which he had dragged himself. He made a hasty examination while Dr. Dunn assisted him and then called for Dr. Daggett. He also put in a telephone call for the chief of police.

Then Joplin returned and said he was determined to see that his mission was successful. Dr. Addies begged Joplin to leave and told him he had mortally wounded Dr. Dunn. Plumley and County Judge Marion Cook rushed into Dr. Dunn's office and seized Joplin.

Dr. Dunn told Judge Cook that he felt he was going to die and he made a statement outlining the whole trouble.

Theodore Dunn, a son of Dr. Dunn, chartered a special train on the Illinois Central and with his mother and sister, Mrs. A. Leonard, came to St. Louis with the wounded physician. An operation failed to save his life, however.

Dunn a Well Known Surgeon.

Dr. Dunn was one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons in southern Illinois. He returned last week from Chicago, where he had been taking a special course in surgery at the Polyclinic hospital.

PROPAGATE FISH ON A BIG SCALE

Commission Making Greater Efforts Than Ever Before to Stock Streams.

Propagation of fish on an extensive scale for stocking Illinois lakes and streams, has been undertaken this year by the state game and fish conservation commission.

For the first time in years the state has planted in suitable waters fish fry of its own hatching. The abandoned hatchery of the old fish commission at Havana was rehabilitated and 10,000,000 pike-perch (wall-eyed pike) eggs were hatched and distributed.

Since the pike-perch were hatched, buffalo spawn has been obtained and hatched. The buffalo is a most important commercial fish. It is not a game fish nor is it to be classed as an edible fish with the black bass or pike-perch. But it is very prolific, of quick growth and feeds upon vegetation and other forms of food that the game fish despise. Moreover, it can be put on the market by the seine fishermen at a very low cost, so that people who cannot afford black bass can have a fish dinner at a cost of about 10 cents a pound.

Realizing the importance of cheap food, the game and fish conservation commission has decided to enlarge the Havana hatchery to turn out 50,000,000 buffalo fry a year.

At Spring Grove, in McHenry county, the commission has established bass hatchling ponds from which this year it will turn out about 3,000,000 fry, to be planted in the best bass waters of the northern part of the state. The bass pond comprises a tract of about 35 acres, on which there will be seven or eight ponds when the plant is completed, with a capacity of about 10,000,000 bass fry a year. Already 25 acres of this tract is under water and stocked with breeding bass now spawning. Before fall the rest of the ponds will be completed and stocked.

At this place a hatchery will be built with a capacity of about 50,000,000 pike-perch fry a year. This fry will be planted in northern lakes and streams suitable for this kind of fish. The hatchery will be completed in time for the coming spring hatching.

Illinois is far behind her sister states in the matter of hatching fish. Indeed there has been nothing done in this line for years, and then there was only the output of a single hatchery. The present commission has had to create a fish culture department and develop an organization.

An important part of the fish conservation work has been the rescuing of small and large fish stranded on the spawning grounds of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers. About 650,000 fish large and small have been rescued within a radius of 10 miles of Galena. Of this number more than 40,000 were put in the rivers at Freeport, Warren, Apple river and Elizabeth. The rest were put in the place where the fish have hitherto perished in this section from drought and frost. It has become a part of the fixed part of the policy of the commission to continue this rescue work.

In many sections streams have been

Anty Drudge Tells Tired Women How to Rest

Mrs. Wretched—"Well, Charlie may think he has the hardest work, and I don't suppose it is any fun working in the foundry. But I don't know as it's any harder than standing over steaming tubs in a hot kitchen, working myself to death to get his greasy overalls clean!"

Anty Drudge—"The way you wash will kill you if you keep on. No woman can stand it. The thing to do is to learn to save yourself, and the way to save yourself is to do all kinds of cleaning with Fels-Naptha Soap and lukewarm water. Put Charlie's greasy things to soak with this cake of soap I have in my satchel and sit down while I tell you something that all women should know about washing with Fels-Naptha Soap."

DAY IN DAVENPORT

Furniture Company Incorporated.

The W. S. Holbrook Furniture company was incorporated with a capital of $65,000. This head of the company, W. S. Holbrook, has for many years conducted a furniture business at 109-111 East Second street and is now changing the business to a corporation. W. S. Holbrook is president and treasurer of the incorporated company and Julia M. Holbrook is vice president and secretary. The officers are also the incorporators. The new company is to carry on the same line of business as the old organization.

Local Men Form Mining Company.

Several Davenport men have formed a company, the Wisconsin Mines & Development company, to develop copper properties in northern Wisconsin. The company has a capitalization of $20,000 and is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia. The Davenporters interested in the new mining enterprise are Charles S. Simpson, Jacob Volgek, V. E. Hayward, W. B. Robertson, D. J. Ryan, P. A. Bendixen, Oswald Becker, Leon J. Zoeckler and Carl Lambach.

Boy Robber Gang Taken By Police.

With the capture of four boys, ranging in age from 14 to 15 years, the police believe they have run to earth the parties responsible for the wholesale list of robberies perpetrated in the city during the past year. The members of the gang are George Foster, Harold Willey, Eddie Burke and Daniel O'Neill (colored). The boys are now being held at the Juvenile Home for complicity in the robbery of the W. B. Wiley grocery store, 207 Brady street, Friday night. A rear window was pried open with a jimmy and about a peck of smoking tobacco taken. Detectives found the loot, consisting of 5-cent packages, secreted in an old stove pipe in the alley at the rear of the establishment. The police have had members of the gang under surveillance for some time past and claim that the boys, although of tender years, are old in the ways of crime and have given them considerable trouble in the past. The boys have made a partial confession. They were separately put through the third degree, and although all of them strenuously avowed their own innocence, they were nothing loath to shift the blame upon the pals according to the police. The Foster boy claims that he heard the other members of the gang framing up the Wiley robbery. Burke was the last of the gang to be captured. He was having the time of his life at Rev. Ned Lee's picnic on Suburban Island when he was taken into custody by Deputy Marshal Matt Lamb. The other arrests were made by Detectives Phelan, Bishop Kinney and Brady and Officer Janssen.

Break Ground for Coliseum.

Workmen Saturday started excavations for the new Coliseum building on West Fourth street. Contracts were awarded to Wm. Struve & Son as general contractor, under whom John Fey has the concrete, excavating, brick and terra cotta work. The structural steel work was awarded to the Rock Island Bridge and Iron works. Walther Vogler company will supply the wiring and electrical fixtures, which will be a very extensive piece of work, there being about 600 light openings in the building. The Sanitary Plumbing & Heating company will supply the plumbing and steam heating apparatus. The building will be fire proof and extremely well provided with fire exits and will be finely adapted to the holding of concerts, lectures, conventions, etc., as the main floor will seat 2,600 people. It has been the aim of the architect to obtain the very best acoustics and a very wide elaborate orchestra shell has been provided. The building is to be completed by October 1, 1914. The Iowa Coliseum

Co., Inc., are the owners and B. W. Gartsdale, Jr., is the architect.

Chairmen for Flower Day.

Knowles, Mrs. Spencer Howe, Mrs. A. C. Feddersen, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. J. H. Rice and Mrs. Bert Thompson. Yellow has been selected as the official color for flower day. It is announced that one-half of the proceeds will go to the woman's board and the remaining half to the men's board to defray the expenses of light, fuel, building, salaries, etc. Those having flowers which they are willing to donate should notify Mrs. Sharon or Mrs. Lee.

Licensed to Wed.—John E. Baumgartner of Davenport and Villa N. Schaefer of Pleasant Valley.

Smallpox at Orphans' Home.

St. Vincent's home on North Gaines street is threatened with smallpox, as the result of the exposing of 120 orphan children to the contagion. The institution has been placed under quarantine and the health authorities are confronted with the most difficult situation with which they have been called upon to cope in recent years. Eight children were yesterday discovered to be suffering with smallpox, and three or four others, who have been ill, are believed to have contracted the contagion. Following the alarming discovery, the health authorities ordered wholesale vaccinations, 108 children being so treated in addition to various school officials and attendants.

Veteran Fireman Rejoins the Force.

—Paul Germandt, who has been connected with the Tri-City Railway company for the past two years, began his duties at Central station, having again donned the garb of a fire fighter. Germandt was formerly in the fire fighting business as a member of the local brigade, and he was welcomed back in the fold.

Obituary Record.—Davenport relatives have been grieved by the death in Chicago of Mrs. Almira Lewis Hagans, widow of the late Judge M. B. Hagans of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Hagans was 83 years of age. She was the mother of Mrs. John T. Thompson, wife of Colonel Thompson, a former commandant of Rock Island arsenal, and was the grandmother of Mrs. Edward C. Roberts and Mrs. Burdick Richardson of Davenport, and Lieutenant Marcellus H. Thompson, coast artillery corps, U. S. A. Mrs. Hagans was descended from Parson John Robinson and from Elder Brewster, the civil, military and religious head of Plymouth colony. She was an accomplished woman of the older days, a strong character and a faithful Christian. In addition to rearing a large family she devoted years of her life to the education and domestic improvement of the colored and poorer white girls of the south and to other charitable projects. E. C. Roberts and Mrs. Lucy Hagans went from here to Chicago to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Nellie E. Burmeister, 25 years old, died at her home, 718 Howell street, after a lingering illness of several months. She was born in Muscatine county, where she lived until 12 years ago, when she removed to Davenport. In 1907 she was united in marriage to Edward Burmeister, who survives her. Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward.

Henry Adolph Saling, aged 5 years, passed away at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Saling, 320 Marquette street, following an illness of three weeks of a complication of diseases. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emma Saling; a twin brother, Herbert; another brother, John, and a sister, Ruth, and an uncle, Ernest Saling.

Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Lena Fintel, wife of Arthur Fintel. She died Thursday evening at the family residence in Glenwood, Iowa. The body is being brought to Davenport for burial. She is survived by her husband and an infant child.
